Tzili Charney, a founder of the Leon Charney Resolution Center, held a 24-hour Peace Talk Marathon at the EMIS International School in Kfar Hayarok with dozens of Israeli and Palestinian students, together with youth from around the world. At the end the 24-hour period, the youth had formulated a written understanding, which they signed at a festive ceremony that was attended by EMIS principal Gili Roman and Michal Atzmon, the director of the Charney Resolution Center.
